

MEPS ECB Trip

On January 9th, 2012 the MEPS team of the University of Siegen went to Frankfurt am Main to visit the ECB as well as the historic and financial district of the city.

The ECB

On January 9th, 2012
the MEPS students
went to Frankfurt,
where they had the
opportunity to attend
the European Central Bank.

Quite early in the morning, on 7:30 a.m., the booked bus left Siegen to bring the MEPS team to Frankfurt.

Not only did the ECB team provide us with beverages and snacks but also we were also given two very interesting presentations by two ECB representatives. Afterwards the students were given the opportunity to ask questions to the two presenters.

The presentation of Ms Philippine Cour-Thimann can be found on the MEPS website.

www.meps.uni-siegen.de

After having left the ECB we sauntered through the Financial District of Frankfurt. Prof. Dr. Beck had lots of stories to tell. On our way we passed by the Old Opera of Frankfurt and took a lot of funny pictures.

Unfortunately the weather was quite unpleasant.

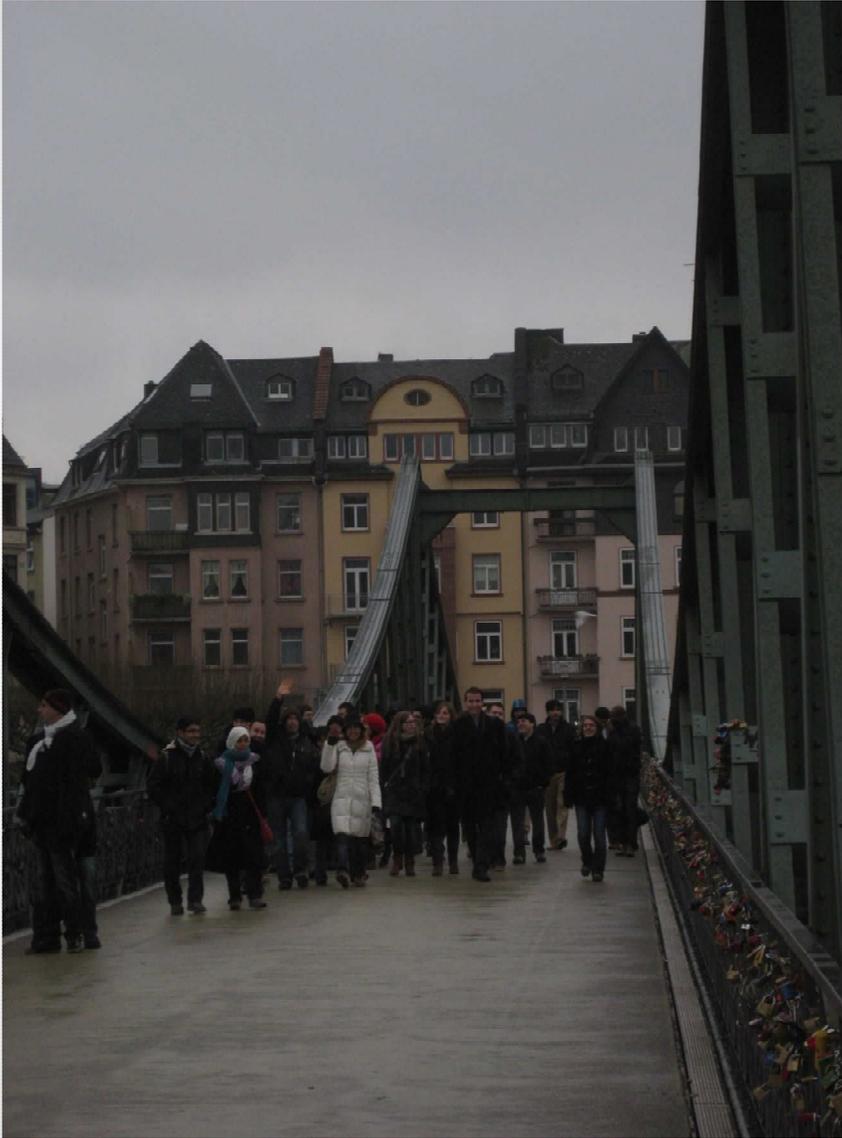

However, this did not influence in any manner our very good mood.

We were having lunch at the Kleinmarkthalle and the international students were introduced to very tasty, traditional German Wurst 😊

Then we went on to the historical part of the city. We were having a look at the Paulskirche, where the first freely elected German Parliament resided in 1848/49. Moreover we went to the Frankfurt city hall, the Römer, and the Kaiserdom St. Bartholomäus.

The MEPS Team in front of the financial district of Frankfurt

MEPS Class of 2013

